Single Copy—SEVEN CENTS

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Expenditures for town welfare cases covering the first six months of the year total $2,669.84, which is $1,019.75 more than for the same period a year ago. This is not a good trend, but conditions appear to be much improved for the last six months of the year, unless developments arise from unforeseen circumstances.

A total of 14 cases have received aid, seven received supplemental aid to the public assistance in the form of medical aid, fuel, clothing and one small grocery order, totaling $548.72. Two families received aid amounting to $1,058.98 pending the acceptance of their applications for Aid to Disabled and Aid to Dependent Children. One case received their grant in May the other effective this month. These two cases in particular have been chronic welfare cases covering a period of 20 years or more. Neither should require any further help from the town. Two cases received aid amounting to $301.78 by reason of unemployment. Three cases requiring hospitalization cost $527.91. Freight on surplus food charged to this account amounted to $232.45.

Six of the fourteen cases reside in Bethel. The other eight, having a Bethel settlement, were found in the following municipalities: Mechanic Falls, Portland, Norway, Greene, South Paris, Dexter, Oxford, and Greenwood.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Soil Dist. Supervisors Help in Planning Demonstration Area

The supervisors of Oxford County Soil Conservation District, their wives, and technicians assisting the district and their wives were the guests of Director Franklin A. Downie of the Conservation School at Bryant Pond, for their July meeting, Tuesday, July 18.

Following supper the group toured the campus and its facilities. Then the supervisors, Director Downie and technicians moved to the area being considered as a forestry-wildlife-soil and water conservation demonstration area. The tree, grass and legume plantings will show teachers, 4H and Grange and other groups taking the courses at the school, the importance of adapting the tree type, grass or legume variety to the soil type available on any given working farm in the state.

The grass and legume plantings will be some 20 feet wide. These bands will consist of the four important grasses and four important legumes such as alfalfa, trefoil, red clover, and ladino clover. The bands will be planted on soil ranging from well drained to imperfectly drained to poorly drained. Amounts of seed, lime, and fertilizer required will be used according to the advice of Frank Hagen, Extension Service Agent for Oxford County.

The group decided to make a forestry planting of the same nature. Four kinds of trees, white pine, white spruce and red pine will be planted in bands across the different dry and moist soil condition. This will show that different kinds of trees grow better on one moisture condition than another.

A farm pond has already been built at the School. This demonstrates the value of a pond on the farm for stock water, irrigation, fire protection, raising fish and recreation. A diversion ditch was built above the pond to prevent silting of the pond. A diversion ditch is like an eaves gutter on a house. It catches run-off water and carries it sideways. On the farm a diversion protects buildings and prevents heavy run-off on sloping fields.

The group decided on planting shrubs above the pond as a wildlife area and bird sanctuary. Some 130 plants will be needed. The early morning bird walk is a part of the studies at the Maine Conservation Education Foundation, on Lake Christopher.

Upon completion of plans for the demonstration area the supervisors held their regular monthly business meeting in the new building, Rogers Hall. Guests at the meeting besides Director Downie were Profes-

BETHEL BOY SCOUTS BACK FROM A WEEK AT CAMP BOMAZEEN

Fourteen Scouts and two adult leaders spent last week at Camp Bomazeen, on the shore of the lake near North Belgrade. Weather was generally fair except for Thursday afternoon and last Sunday. There were 169 boys with 13 leaders in camp during the week.

Swimming was one of the main events, twice each day, plus a special Troop 165 swim. Other troop events included meeting with camp counselors on Morse code, first aid, archery, and mosquito netting, also two periods of troop boating, and canoeing.

All second class Scouts advanced much of the way towards first class, with four boys—Jack Brooks, George Nickerson, Richard Paine, and Paul Vachon, passing First Class board of review to star rank.

Mark Walker advanced from non-swimmer to beginner. Jeff Brown, Bob Remington and Steve Trinward advanced from beginner to swimmer. Nine boys passed the swimmer test on the first day in camp. Dick Paine passed the mile swim at the end of the week.

The troop overnight cook-out and sleep-under-the-stars had to be postponed from Thursday to Saturday night, with many clouds and few stars, but no rain until we were breaking camp early Sunday morning.

Special events included a scavenger hunt Wednesday evening, an Order of the Arrow Ceremony Friday evening, and a Water Bomerama Saturday afternoon. Adult leaders were Carroll Valentine and Erlon Paine.

John Mudge of Farmington State Teachers College and Robert Miller of Gorham State Teachers College. These two men are the resident professors in charge of the teaching program at the school.

Those attending the supper, tour and meeting were supervisors W. Henry Allen and Mrs. Allen, Hebron; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gray and son, John, Fryeburg; Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Hastings, East Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Smith, West Bethel; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sturtevant, South Paris; Wayne Jackson of the Maine Forest Service and Mrs. Jackson; George E. Holden, Conservation Aid, and Mrs. Holden of Norway, and Lyman W. Jacobsen, Conservationist, for the Soil Conservation Service and Mrs. Jacobsen.

Miss Maine to Attend Mollyockett Day Parade Here July 29

On foot, on bicycles, in carriages and in the most modern means of four wheel transportation, beauty will reign in the 1961 Mollyockett Day Parade on July 29. Miss Maine, Miss Oxford County and Miss Mollyockett will head the list and many other lovely ladies will delight all who gather to watch this parade, again being organized by last year's highly successful co-chairmen, Charlie Farrar and Sonny Saunders.

The Bethel Health and Service Council, during the past year, has been very active under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Dexter Stowell, her slate of officers and committees. The Council sponsors this event with all proceeds from the popular project going toward a most worthy cause. The utmost in cooperation has been realized from all Communities, Organizations and individuals contacted and volunteering.

A Field Day for Kiddies, Art Exhibit, Car Wash, Papoose Reservation, Games, several Food Booths, Raffle, Old Fashioned Baked Bean supper, Auction and Beano Game will round out a full day of activities for all to enjoy.

Probable schedule for the day's activities is as follows: 9:00 a. m., Field Activities for "small fry"; 10:00 a. m., Auction, Stuart Martin, auctioneer; 11:00 a. m., food booths, hot dog stand, sandwiches, candy and beverages will be open through the noon hour for those who come for the day; 1:00 to 5:00, Art Show at Chapman Barn, head of Main Street, through courtesy of Miss Alice Capen; 1:30, parade, followed by presentation of trophies and band concert under direction of Ja. Aes Owen.

Anyone having any items suitable for auction, being sponsored by Locke Mills Legion, please call Ellsworth Hathaway, TR 5-2342 and leave word. Arrangements will be made to pick up your donations, or they may be brought to the Community Room on the day of the Auction.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Robie are moving from Boston to Mills, Mass.

LOCAL ARTISTS EXHIBIT AT SECOND SHOWING ON MOLLYCROCKETT DAY

The Art Show, which was first a popular feature of Mollycrockett Day last year, gives promise of equal excellence on Saturday afternoon, July 29. As before, the exhibit will be in the Chapman barn, where you may look forward to seeing work by Winona Chapman, Edith Howe, Annie Nutting, Shirley Keenan, Jim Owen, Scott Bowhay, Lucia Tikander, Herchel Glines, Mary Shaw, Mariah Webster, Connie Thurston, Claire Bresnahan, Walter Clark, Barbara Young, and Georgia and Bob Brooks.

Maurice Brooks decided to try his hand and is letting us see his first picture. Betty Anderson, Rose Rozek, and Geneva Johnston have taken time from their busy careers to do a picture for us. Geneva Vail of Newry, who does portraits of your favorite pets is among our newcomers; also Chas. Wiese, new proprietor of Bethel. Penny Davis and Gloria Kunkel.

Don't forget that this is not a professional show. There is no qualified jury to select pictures. Rather anyone who wants may enter two pictures, those who wish to sell enter three. While some of the pictures have had training, others have had little or none.

If the exhibit is as popular as it was last year, it will become an annual event; so please fill the suggestion box with any ideas that you may have to make this a more meaningful and happier occasion. Several of the artists are interested in knowing what kind of picture is popular.

There will be an opportunity to vote for the two or three pictures that you like the best. Barbara Sears Dennison, an artist who spent many summers here at Skyfields, will be home for the week end. She is bringing a picture of a local scene that she did twenty years ago. She has also promised to write a commentary on the exhibit and the results of the voting will be announced at that time.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Elementary Teacher's Workshop concludes tomorrow at the Crescent Park School. Sponsored by the State Department of Education, the workshop has offered teachers an opportunity to become acquainted with recent developments in materials and methods in the areas of Science, Health and Physical Education, Arithmetic, Language Arts, Audio-Visual Aids and Elementary Music.

Tomorrow's concluding session centers around the theme "Quality in Elementary Education"; and Ray A. Cook, Division of Instruction, will serve as discussion leader.

Nineteen teachers from Bethel and surrounding towns have participated in the workshop.

School maintenance work completed thus far this summer includes the following projects: remodeling at the Village Primary School to create a new reading room on the main level and a small first grade room in the basement where the reading room was formerly located; building three new fire-exits and providing new stairs; painting of rooms and exit doors at both village schools as well as portions of entire classrooms; the installation of a larger furnace at East Bethel to insure adequate heating for the proposed toilet facilities and the classroom.

Work remaining includes the regrading of the Village Primary front yard to remove drainage problems which in the past have resulted in flooding of the basement and a muddy yard, installation of toilet facilities at East Bethel and re-decorating the second room at West Bethel.

The Bethel School Committee will meet at the East Bethel School Saturday to discuss plans for installation of water and toilet facilities in that school. Anyone interested is invited to attend the meeting which will begin at 8:00 p. m.

Bethel's Prospect Inn Burned Fifty Years Ago Saturday

On a windy Saturday afternoon, July 22, 1911, the greater part of the Prospect Inn on Broad Street was burned. The fire apparently started near a chimney in the attic of the ell and was discovered after flames broke through the roof. The main part of the building, including the old "Bethel House" section, was a total loss. The former "Elms" section at the right was saved and used through the following winter to accommodate travelers.

The hotel was owned by Mrs. Charles F. Lord and leased and operated by Frank R. Green & Co. The manager was Harry H. King who also owned the kitchen equipment and other furnishings. The loss, except Mr. King's, was insured. Most of the furniture in the main house was saved.

The inn was made up of two hotels which were consolidated in 1901 when both were the property of the Lovejoy family. The Elms, originally the Dr. John Grover place 200 feet from the Bethel House, was moved and joined to the latter by a two story 52x20 foot "annex" which contained a dining room and parlor. The hotel had 400 feet of piazzas 11 feet wide, and the dining room seating capacity was 150.

An earlier Bethel House on the site of the present Luce Oil Co. office and store burned in 1855. This was once operated by Frank S. Chandler and was bought by William F. Lovejoy in 1859. Mr. Lovejoy returned here, buying the new Bethel House in 1881 and the Elms in 1892. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lord purchased the property in 1902.

A few days after the fire the property was bought by Prof. W. R. Chapman who had architects working on plans for a 40-room hotel to be built on the site. Next fall he sold to Dr. J. G. Gehring and others who erected the present Bethel Inn which was opened to the public on July 8, 1913.

RYAN - MARTINSON

The First Congregational Church of Yarmouth, Yarmouth Port, Mass., was the setting July 1 for the marriage of Judith Paine Martinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Martinson of Marshfield and West Yarmouth, Mass., and Edward Loyal Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryan of Mystic, Conn.

The Rev. Harry Meyer performed the double-ring ceremony in a candlelight setting at two o'clock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza, fashioned with short sleeves and a line and elbow-length sleeves. Similarly attired were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Roland Conway, North Billerica, Mass., and Judith Anderson, East Walpole, Mass., and all wore matching picture hats and carried old-fashioned bouquets of pink rosebuds, sweet peas and babies' breath.

Best man was David W. Martinson, brother of bride, and ushers were Joseph Scanlon, Raynham, Mass., and Richard McKeon, Suffield, Mass.

The bride's mother, the former Vivian Wight of Bethel, wore a sheath dress of embroidered pale blue silk organza and matching hat. Attired in an off-white dress and wearing a hat in soft shades of brown was the mother of the bridegroom. Both wore corsages of rosebuds.

After a reception on the lawn of the bride's parents' summer home in West Yarmouth, the

The bride has been teaching in Granby High School, Granby, Conn., and the bridegroom in Suffield, Conn., High School where he is also assistant principal.

BORN

In Rumford, July 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Meisner of East Andover, a son, Dana Reginald. In Cheshire, England, July 12, to Dr. and Mrs. William O'Brien, a son, Kirk Patrick. In Portland, July 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coyne (Starr Andrews) of Scarborough, a daughter, Maureen Lynn.

MARRIED

In Yarmouth Port, Mass., July 1, by Rev. Harry Meyer, Edward L. Ryan of Mystic, Conn., and Miss Judith P. Martinson of Marshfield, Mass.

DIED

In Lewiston, July 12, Eugene F. Penley of West Paris, aged 49 years.

In Lewiston, July 18, William Sweett of Bethel, aged 67 years.
